Profesional Profile

I'm a software developer with hands-on experience in web applications (Flutter, WordPress), and I've delivered training sessions on Artificial Intelligence. I'm passionate about the full development lifecycle and exploring how AI can be integrated to create real value for businesses and users.

I have strong knowledge of HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and Java, along with familiarity with frameworks like SpringBoot and Angular. I'm looking to join dynamic teams where I can keep contributing, growing, and specializing in projects that combine software development and artificial intelligence.
